LOSSES. -- FRANCES BRowNa. Upon the white sea-sand There sat a pilgrim band, Telling the losses that their lives had known; While evening waned away From breezy clifi and bay, And the strong tides went out with weary moan. One spake with quivering lip, Ofa fair freighted ship, With all his household to the deep gone down; But one had wilder woe, --For a fair face, long ago Lost in the darker depths ofa great town. There were who mourned their youth With a most loving ruth, For its brave hopes and memories ever green; And one upon the west Turned an eye that would not rest, For far-off hills whereon its joys had been. Some talked of vanished gold; Some of proud honors told; Some spake of friends that were their trust no more; And one of a green grave Beside...
