Reviews

It is one of my personal favorite books. It is one of the most incredible books I have ever read. You will not feel monotony at any moment of your own time (that's what catalogues are for relating to if you ask me).

Forgotten Books, United States, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Studies on the Geography of Virginia The Indians of the Northern Neck Country being friendly, their presence presented an additional inducement to English settlers, by reason of the profits to be realized from their trade. It was in this region that the next English settlements were founded. If tobacco was king in the James River country, the oyster may be aptly designated as queen in the Northern Neck. In the establishment of an industrial system much depends upon the forces and conditions which give rise to the initiative. The acquirement of food and clothing constitutes the first essential. This obtained, the most profitable commodity, or means of exchange, is next to receive attention. The Virginia colonists had to meet the first by hunting, fishing, the cultivation of corn, raising of livestock, and bartering with the Indians. All of the conditions precluded a surplus of food stuffs, so that these are ruled out at this stage as possible commodities for exchange. But even if they had been possible, the demand would have been so limited as to make the production unprofitable. They must produce a surplus of that for which there is a pressing demand in England to realize profitable results. What were the leading English imports? Iron and steel from Spain; copper from Sweden; wine, salt and canvas from France; silks and velvets from Italy; spices from Asia; and naval supplies, such as tar, pitch, cordage, masts and yards, from Russia and Poland. The search of the colonists for gold and copper had been futile; in 1620, iron mines were opened at the James River Falls, but abandoned because inferior; the grape was neither adapted...
