It seems we are bombarded daily and often with companies who claim that they can help you repair your credit for a small fee and you won't have to worry about it at all. However, the truth is that self help credit repair is not only possible, but really the way to go. It isn't as difficult as many people might think going about repairing your credit yourself. In fact the newest trend in credit repair actually the self help road. All you need to do is start by pulling a copy of your credit report from all three credit reporting bureaus: Experian, Equifax, and TransUnion. You are entitled to one free credit report per year thanks to passage of the FACT Act. The other two, you'll have to pay for, but the fee is usually small - between $10 and $15. After you get your credit reports, the next self help step is to go through those reports and check to see that the information is accurate. Most of the time, there are going to be errors of some type. These errors can vary from a past due account that has been paid off to a debt that wasn't yours in the first place. If you find errors, you need to contact the credit reporting agency both by phone and in writing. You'll be asked to provide proof of the error and then they, in turn are required to notify you in writing...
