Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Best I Remember Was the possession, close at my hand, of a capacious notebook at a moment when, in ill health and weariness of spirit, I needed an indoor recreation to lay a ghost. My first thought was to jot down a few random recollections of the best things I could remember, but the jottings grew - as Mr. Rudyard Kipling says his first poems grew - unmanneredly, till the first capacious notebook was filled, while memories stored up during thirty-three years of London journalism - especially religious journalism - still crowded in. Other capacious notebooks followed and were filled. Then it seemed possible that these reminiscences, so artlessly garnered, might be made into a book to be published in all modesty, and not without a sense of dread lest aught written here might be thought to have been set down in malice. It is the nature of recollections to be indiscreet but indiscretions may be neither malicious nor mischievous, especially if they concern things said and done in years that have passed into history. I cherish a hope that I have no enemies (since there is no man I regard as my enemy), and devoutly I wish that this book shall make me none.
