Excerpt from American National Red Cross: Report of Board of Engineers on the Huai River Conservancy Project in the Provinces of Kiangsu and Anhui, China The Board of Engineers appointed by the American National Red Cross in accordance with an arrangement with the Republic of China to make certain investigations connected with the Huai River Conservancy Project submits the following report: The Board was instructed to make: (a) A further survey and investigation of the physical conditions affecting the Huai River Conservancy that must govern the engineering question of feasibility of that project. (b) The determination with as close an approach to accuracy as may be practicable of the area of present waste and submerged public lands that through the regulation works will be reclaimed for agricultural, social, or industrial purposes, together with an estimation of their real and annual income value. (c) The determination of the approximate area of privately owned lands that will be improved in productiveness and value by means of the regulation works; also an estimation of the annual or income value per unit area of the benefited lands expected to result from these regulation works, etc. (d) An estimation of the tonnage and net revenue derivable therefrom on the traffic that should exist on that portion of the Grand Canal included within the area of this conservancy project. (e) An estimate of cost of the proposed regulation and reclamation works required to effect the Huai River Conservancy, the time required for construction and installation, and the annual cost of operation, renewals, and maintenance. The Board was further instructed to submit its report on or before November 1, 1914. The Huai River Conservancy area, as defined by agreement, comprises:...
