The dielectric constant is space-dependent in a special way. The purpose of the analysis is to examine the space dependence of the reflected and transmitted waves. We observe that the space dependence of the reflected and transmitted waves due to a plane slab, whose index varies in the direction perpendicular to a face, is very simple and well known while the dependence on frequency, slab thickness and slab material is elementary only for special cases, such as the case of a constant index of refraction. The principal result of our analysis, which is stated in the abstract, expresses an analogy between the curved slab we treat and plane slab. For the class of parabolic slabs which we consider, the space dependence of the rigorous solution is particularly simple, while the dependence on the frequency, material and thickness is not easily analyzable...

Reviews

It becomes an awesome publication that I actually have actually read. It really is written in simple terms and not difficult to understand. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.
