Excerpt from Papers and Proceedings of the General Meeting of the American Library Association: Held at Buffalo, August 14 to 17, 1883 Our sixth annual meeting finds us for the first time on the frontiers of our country, whence we can easily extend a hand of welcome to our neighbors of the Dominion. We are glad to find that later in the session some of our Canadian brothers win accept it. However tariffs and fealty may separate us, there is nothing alien in libraries; and why may not American, in a bibliothecal sense at least, include the whole brotherhood of the New World? We need attrition. Nothing has so much improved the standard of library management as this very commingling of librarians every year. Those who are familiar with the history of libraries in this country know that the advance in all that makes our work a system, and gives our calling an influence, has been vastly greater since librarians have acquired a neighborly habit. The inquiry is sometimes made, What do you find to do and say at these meetings of librarians?...
