Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Report on the Extent and Character of Food and Drug Adulteration On the appointment of Mr. A. J. Wedderburn as special agent of the Department, a circular approved by the Assistant Secretary of Agriculture was sent to about 9,000 druggists and to all the officers and members of State pharmaceutical and dairy associations whose addresses could be obtained. The text of this circular was as follows: Please furnish me with any information that you may have in relation to the use of pepsin or black pepsin in (so-called) butter-making. I should be glad to learn also anything in relation to any other butter and cheese adulterants and to obtain any reliable data concerning the adulteration of children s foods, dairy and pharmaceutical preparations. I inclose franked envelope for reply. Please furnish me the names and addresses which you may know of any State or municipal officials charged with executing the laws relating to the adulteration of foods and drugs, also the names of officers or members of the pharmaceutical associations and dairy organizations in your State, and oblige. Many replies were received to this circular. Mr. Wedderburn during his service as special agent classified and abstracted the greater number of them, but the material was not entirely put in shape for publication. By instructions of the Secretary of Agriculture I have endeavored to complete this work and prepare the material for transmittal. The details of the work and the use to be made of the material collected were left entirely to the judgment of the special agent. All the information in regard to the use of black pepsin has been omitted for the reason that..
