B-272258 Table 2: Key Provisions of Commerces Export Control System Provision Definition License categories An individual validated license authorizes the export of a specific item during a specified period to a designated consignee. A general license requires no application and permits export within the provisions of the Export Administration Regulations. A special comprehensive license consolidates five types of special licenses for such purposes as large-scale exports of a wide variety of items for specified activities, certain multiple exports and re-exports, and other purposes. Reasons for control National security controls restrict the export and re-export of strategic items worldwide to prevent their diversion to certain destinations, such as China and Russia. Foreign policy controls restrict the export of items to prevent them from reaching countries for reasons that include antiterrorism, regional stability, and nonproliferation. Permanency of controls Foreign policy controls are not permanent and must be renewed annually by the Secretary of Commerce, as delegated by the President, and reported to Congress. Foreign availability A determination that an item is comparable in quality to an item subject to U. S. national security export controls and is available from a non-U. S. source in sufficient quantities to render the U. S. export control of that item or the denial of a license ineffective. This determination results in mandatory decontrol of items controlled solely for national security reasons. This provision does not apply to items controlled for foreign policy reasons. De minimis thresholds Under the Export Administration Regulations, prior written approval from Commerce is...
