Brand New Book \*\*\*\*\* Print on Demand \*\*\*\*\*.Various cases are presented of the solution of the problem of the most efficient propeller, more general cases being considered than the one by Betz in 1919: namely, that of a propeller under a limiting light load, The problem is solved directly and also with the aid of the Ritz method which became readily applicable after the author proposed a method for the solution of the propeller problem, in general, with the aid of trigonometric series. The design of a propeller with the aid of this method is given and an analysis is made of the effect of the fuselage and of the viscosity coefficient  $\mu$  on the character of the solution of the variational problem.
