Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The True Basis of American Independence: A Lecture Before the American Institute, New York, Oct; 20, 1853, in the Broadway Tabernacle Fellow-Citizens: I do not know how lightly you, who are hurried so fast through the ever-changing panorama of metropolitan life, may regard the quiet scenes of this unpretending festival, appointed and arranged with so much care by the American Institute; but I confess for myself, that, coming from a distant and rural home, and so being never more than an occasional spectator here, I find always the same first freshness, in these autumnal shows of flowers, and fruits, and animals of subsistence, fleece and burden, trained and perfected by hard yet gentle hands; and these annual trials of the skill of emulous, yet unambitious men and women, in the use of the spade and the plow, the forge and the furnace, the dairy and the needle, the spindle and the loom, innocent in their nature, yet beneficent in their effect, by stimulating invention and enterprise, while they faithfully mark, as years roll on, the progress which our country is making in arts and civilization, never fail to excite within me sympathies and emotions more profound and pleasing, than any State pageant which I have witnessed at home, or the most imposing demonstration of military power that can be seen in any other and less favored land. Society divides concerning that progress. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
