

Breaking Dawn

By Cordell H Sloan

Brown Reflections Apr 2015, 2015. Taschenbuch. Book Condition: Neu. 229x152x8 mm. This item is printed on demand - Print on Demand Neuware - This collection of poetry was written over the last twenty-five years of Rev. Cordell Sloan's life. Still, his voice and the themes embodied are ageless. Each poem is a window that gives a glimpse into his heart, his soul, and the depth of his faith. This collection expresses all the emotions of life, love, pain, joy, disappointment, expectation, perseverance, and death. They represent the human condition and are divided into nine categories, spiritual, inspirational, nature, the passage of time, love and longings, life and living, the Black man, life in the ghetto, and racial inequality. Reverend Cordell Holland Sloan, affectionately known as Rev. in the Ludlow community, was an extraordinary man whose life was full and amazing. He survived a brain tumor at age 13, and in spite of being legally blind from damage caused by the tumor, he went on to become a scholar at Tennessee State University, formerly A & I State College, The Presbyterian Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky, and Vanderbilt University Divinity School. He was a Civil Rights activist, having his own children integrate...

READ ONLINE
[9.66 MB]

Reviews

Absolutely essential go through pdf. Of course, it can be enjoy, still an amazing and interesting literature. Your way of life period will be convert the instant you comprehensive reading this article ebook.

-- Kevin Quigley

Very good eBook and valuable one. Better then never, though i am quite late in start reading this one. I am very easily could possibly get a satisfaction of reading through a created publication.

-- Brianne Heidenreich