Excerpt from Life of James Williams, Better Known as Professor Jim: For Half a Century Janitor of Trinity College The streets are generally well paved, with good sidewalks, and every part of the city is well supplied with lamps. The Park is a beautiful promenade of about four acres, on the south side of Broadway, and near the center of the city. The modern houses in New York are mostly of brick, and are generally well built; many of them are elegant. Among the public edifices are now included more than one hundred churches, which are occupied by the various denominations for religious worship. The steeple of St. Paul s is probably not excelled by any in the Union. The front of the new church in Wall street is handsome. The City Hall, situated at the head of the Park, is a noble specimen of architecture, and one of the most superb buildings in the United States.
