Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Niagara Falls, the Great Manufacturing Village of the West: Being a Statement of the Operations of the Niagara Falls Hydraulic Company The object of this Pamphlet is to lay before the public some particulars concerning an enteprise, by which it is believed that a new field is about to be opened for the development of the manufacturing resources of the country. Its title indicates at once the locality and the general nature of the enterprise. Water power, in its grandest manifestation, is suggested by the veiy name, Niagara. Over this stupendous cataract there flows unceasingly, with hardly a perceptible variation throughout the year, a body of water estimated at upwards of 100,000,000 tons per hour. Here is power almost illimitable; constantly wasted, yet never diminished, - constantly exerted, yet never exhausted, - gazed upon, admired, wondered at, but never hitherto controlled. The entire practicability, however, of diverting some portion of this enormous power, and subjecting it to utilitarian purposes, has not escaped the observation of scientific men familiar with the natural features of the country in its vicinity.
