The program needs to be contin-ued. And thats why Ive introduced H. R. 4107, which we will con-sider today. Let me take a brief moment to describe the bill which will allow us to continue to address these most pressing needs. The legisla-tion reauthorizes the Fire Grant Program for three years at its cur-rent authorized level of 900 million per year. It mandates the peer-review process that has been such a critical component of the programs success. Firefighters and firefighting experts developed the criteria under which the applications are judged, and they make the key decisions as to who gets the positive nod on which projects are funded. It calls on the USFA to administer the program, which is the right agency with a track record of success in working with the fire serv-ices. It increases the maximum allowable grant and decreases the matching requirement for larger departments. And the mayor is going to appreciate that. So often well pass programs in Washington and say well give you so much money if the local jurisdiction will come up with the additional money, and so often the local jurisdiction is strapped and doesnt have the re-sources to come up with additional money. So were decreasing the matching requirements. The program is needed, and Im confident that it will be reau-thorized before the end of the fiscal year. And thats why were hav-ing...
