Createspace, United States, 2012. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Let me begin by pointing out that virtually all information is derived from sources outside of one s self. While this may or may not be obvious, it sets the stage for what you will read later about making choices. The intention of this book is to raise people s consciousness regarding the deceptive and deceitful practices that occur in society by discussing their root causes, and present some of the negative manifestations of those behaviors. We can not expect to advance society by allowing these actions to go unacknowledged and not dealt with. Also described are some of the ways in which we voluntarily become victims. These are all areas in which we can benefit from having reasonable insights.
