

The Botany of the Afghan Delimitation Commission, Vol. 3 (Classic Reprint) (Hardback)

By James Edward Tierney Aitchison

Forgotten Books, 2017. Hardback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Botany of the Afghan Delimitation Commission, Vol. 3 The expedition left the vicinity of Quetta, in the extreme north-east of Baluchistan, on the 22nd of September, 1884, marching westwards almost parallel with its northern boundary, along the edge of and partly across the great desert, to the Helmand river at Hadj-ali. In this part of our journey our marches were very long and accomplished with great rapidity, chiefly during the night, as the days were still very hot. As there were no traces of a road of any sort to direct us we were guided at night by large fires, acting as beacons, and during the day by the marks of a plough which had been taken across the country, making a furrow for this special purpose. The season of the year was against any good collections being made, so that the little I did collect were mere scraps, most of which, however, have been identified by comparison with my subsequent collections. The physical features of Northern Baluchistan consist of great gravel and clay plains, bordered by ranges of limestone and...

Reviews

Very useful to any or all group of men and women. It is written in basic words instead of difficult to understand. I realized this ebook from my i and dad recommended this publication to understand.

This published book is wonderful. It is really simplified but unexpected situations within the fifty percent of the ebook. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.
