Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Cook Book: Helpful Recipes for War Time Every cook who contrives a way to save food is doing just as patriotic a service as if she were in Red Cross work, and in her efforts to reduce the waste of fats or to use other cereals instead of wheat flour she is helping the Sammies in France quite as surely as if she were knitting socks. There is no doubt at all as to the value of kitchen thrift. The difficulty comes with bringing home to the cook herself the vitally important part she is playing in putting the excellent suggestions showered upon her into practice. But we know that the crops our fields are growing must suffice, not only for our own needs and the heavy demands of the boys whom we are sending 3,000 miles to the trenches, but that perhaps the most important task ahead of us in feeding the armies of our allies in the fields and the civilian population of France, Belgium and England. And so every pound of food...
