Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Emigration: A Paper Read at the Burdett Hall, Limehouse, by the Rev. Charles B. Gibson, M. R. I. An., On March 30th, 1868 MY object in writing the paper I am now about to read, is, not merely to direct those intending to emigrate, but also to instruct the public mind on the subject of emigration. The emigrant views emigration simply as the means of improving his own condition; the public are supposed to take a wider and more philosophical view of the subject - but I fear the public view is rather hazy and indistinct; and so long as this is the case, it is idle to expect any decided action on the part of our statesmen, who, as a rule, are influenced by pressure from without. The horse, or engine, which we call public opinion, is behind the state car in which these gentlemen sit. It is my intention, at some future time, to publish - or at least print - the paper I now hold in my hand; but I do not think it amiss to ventilate...
