ZAUBEREIEN UND WUNDER NEBST GEISTERBESCHWORUNGEN UND IHRER ERSCHEINUNG (2)

RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 80 pages. OCLC Number: 54359303 Excerpt: . . . 4 The Subcommittee on Fisheries Conservation, Wildlife and Oceans is currently re-viewing the MMPA to determine what changes need to be made during this reauthorization process. Subcommittee Chairman Wayne Gilchrest and I introduced H. R. 2693, the Marine Mammal Protection Act Amendments of 2003, on July 10, 2003. Section 7 of this bill authorizes the Secretary of Commerce to conduct re-search on the non-lethal removal and control of nuisance pinnipeds. This hearing will better define the scope of these interaction issues and hopefully, from the testimony, we can determine if additional changes to the MMPA are necessary. The MMPA is an interesting law because in many ways it is more restrictive than the Endangered Species Act. However, unlike that statute, its coverage is uniform regardless of whether a population of marine mammal species is growing, decreasing, or stable. There is no distinction. One of the primary goals of the MMPA is to restore or maintain marine mammal populations to their optimum sustainable population. In addition, the MMPA requires the same protections for all marine mammals regardless of their population status. Therefore, robust populations of California sea lions receive the same protections as endangered northern right whales. In the 1970s when the MMPA was first enacted marine mammals needed across the board protections due to overall declining population numbers. However, thirty years later the Act has been very successful in rebuilding many marine mammal stocks. While I believe there should be protections for marine mammals, we need to find a proper balance which allows the children of La Jolla to use their beach, recreational fishermen to land an entire salmon, not just part of it, and boaters to access their...
