

Sevier and Little River Counties, Arkansas (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By Kansas City Southern Railway Co

Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Sevier and Little River Counties, Arkansas Sevier County lies almost in the southwest corner of the state and in the most western tier of counties. It borders on Oklahoma for 17 miles and extends southward to within 20 miles of Red River and the Texas line. This county is in the southern foothills of the Ozark Mountains and its general slope is south and southeast. It is well watered and well drained. It is bounded on the east by the Saline River and on the south by the Little River. The Cossatot and Rolling Fork rivers cross the county from north to south, emptying into Little River. Numerous tributaries, fed principally by perpetual springs, flow into all four of these rivers. Sevier County embraces about 600 square miles, or 384,000 acres. Eighty percent of its area will be tillable when the timber has been cleared away. About half the soil in the county is red. The color is due to the presence of considerable quantities of iron, which guarantees a rich color and flavor to peaches and other fruits....
