The more important of these cases will be enumerated, as nearly as may be in the order of the anatomical regions in which the wounds were inflicted, with such subdivisions as are most convenient. Guxshot Wouxm OP the Head.-Few of the cases of this series present peculiarities, yet some of them are not devoid of interest. Private Richard Jenkins, On. B, 82d United States Colored Troops, aged 25 years, was accidentally wounded, at St. Augustine, Florida, mi April 26, 1866, by the explosion of a fowling-piece. A fragment of iron perforated both tables of the frontal bone. He was admitted to the post hospital, where the foreign substance was extracted, and cold water dressings were applied, He was returned to duty May 25,...
