Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Aubrey De Vere, a Memoir: Based on His Unpublished Diaries and Correspondence I examined his papers with a view to publishing some of his prose remains, I found that practically nothing was written of the second volume of Recollections which he had planned. The letters and diaries, however, which he was revising with a view to their possible posthumous publication, at once struck me as in many cases suitable for this purpose, for they deal with matters of general interest, and include some graphic contemporary descriptions of great men. Contemporary letters convey a sense of actuality which Recollections do not always carry. The account (for example) given in 1845, of Alfred Tennyson smoking His pipe and crooning his magnificent Elegies to intimate friends until one in the morning, will be to many more actual, than a retrospect, through glasses coloured by later events, and made when the in Memoriam had long been written, and its author famous. Some of the letters and diaries give, moreover, a picture of daily intercourse with Wordsworth, of whom little was said in the Recollections.
