Divided Inheritance

By Eveline Podgorski

GRIN Verlag. Paperback. Condition: New. 52 pages. Dimensions: 8.1in. x 5.8in. x 0.2in. Seminar paper from the year 2007 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies - Literature, grade: 2, 0, University of Paderborn, course: Contemporary American Memoirs, 14 entries in the bibliography, language: English, abstract: Besides the novel and the autobiography, the memoir has become very popular, especially in the United States. What makes a memoir special? What are the key aspects the writer of a memoir has to observe? And what is it that differentiates the memoir from a simple novel or an autobiography? In our seminar 'Contemporary American Novels', we dealt with some recent outcomes that talk about different subjects - growing up with a divided inheritance, dealing with a rape and overcoming the death of a beloved person. In this term paper, I will take a closer look at the first subject, namely growing up with a divided inheritance, and memoir we read - 'The Color of Water' by James McBride. To analyse several different issues that are raised in this book, I will compare it to another memoir, which also deals with the subject of growing up as a part of two different cultures. Dreams...
