Not illustrated. 1859 Excerpt: .and had been raised a Quaker, lived on Sandy Creek, in the present county of Randolph, and is said to have possessed a handsome property. Tradition connects him with Dr. Franklin, and it was believed that Franklin sent him political pamphlets. Though deficient in education, he was a man of considerable mind, grave, cautious, and shrewd; and he undoubtedly exercised no little influence among the discontented people of the province. He drew up the paper read in court at Hillsborough in August, 1766, the resolutions adopted at Maddocks s Mill, and many of the papers and petitions of the regulators; spoke often in their assemblies, and procured copies of the laws, which he read to his neighbours and friends. He did not make the cause of the Regulation, nor was he its head and guide; but his industry, zeal, and ability undoubtedly gave him influence and...
